And now, to save Britain from Brexit

It is time for a new democratic campaign to defend core British rights and interests which cannot be left to the “Leave” campaign to safeguard. The campaign for “In” needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.

The British people have spoken and on June 23, 2016, voted to leave the European Union. Since then, the Leave campaign has been stoking up a series of false accusations and lies about the EU and immigrants, which have resulted in a number of violent attacks on migrants and members of the EU.

The “Leave” campaign has been lobbying the government to make major changes to the EU, including the defeat of the Single Market, the loss of the Social Chapter and the European Court of Human Rights, and the loss of the right of British citizens to live, work, study or retire in the EU. These changes would mean a deep crisis for Britain, its economy and its people.

The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.

The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.

The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.

The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.

The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated. The “In” campaign needs to take the lead in a future national election ballot paper, so that the democratic vote of the British people is not tampered with or manipulated.